God gave
the apostles
power to do
miracles.

Apostle
means “one sent.”

The apostles also served others who needed help, and they healed the sick to prove that their message was
from God.

Jesus told the apostles to teach others the Gospel. “Go into all the world and preach
the Gospel to every creature...”
(Matthew 28:18).

The apostles
went
everywhere
teaching
everyone who would listen.

The apostles
preached to
soldiers,
slaves, jailers,
kings and
governors.

Because the apostles taught
many people
about Jesus, they were often treat- ed badly. Some were tortured
and killed.

Two apostles
(John, Peter) wrote
books of the New Testament which were letters (epistles) to churches or individuals.
